BIG STRIKE AT BEAVER MEADOW

ONE THOUSAND MEN AT COL-RAINE QUIT WORK.

Sunday Night-Pickets Stationed Along the Roads to Prevent Other Cause of Trouble.

Hazleton, Aug. 29 .- One thousand men employed at the Evans and the Colraine collieries at Beaver Meadow and Colraine operated by the A. S. Van Winkle, trustees, went out on strike today. This decision was reached at a meeting of the men at Beaver Meadow on Sunday night and this morning pickets stationed along the roads leading to the collieries notified all who were not yet aware of the contemplated strike that no work would be allowed until the grievances which caused the strike are settled. This view was not generally concurred in by the English speaking miners, but they submitted and returned to their homes.

The cause of the strike is alleged by the men to have been the discharge of an Hungarian laborer who is said to have refused to pay for the company doctor. The officials of the company deny this, assigning incompetency as the cause of the man's dismissal. The Hungarians held a secret meeting at Beaver Meadow early this evening, but its outcome was not made public. It is probable that a committee of the strikers will meet the officials tomorrow, with a view of settling the grievance complained of.

THE FUTURE OF SPAIN.

Here's Hoping That It May Be a Prosperous One.

From the Philadelphia Press. ments of prosperity, but they are of such a nature that only energy, economy and wise government of the such a nature that only energy, economy and wise government of the such a tractive play, "Darkest Russia, will be the attraction at the Academ Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is omy and wise government will enable them to be utilized. She has a territory of which much is high and semiarid, but there are rich valleys and hillsides which produce the choicest of fruits, wines and oils. With a revision of the taxes which bear heavily on cultivated lands with better roads and the use of machinery, Spain could be made to yield a large increase in its agricultural products, most of which increase could be exported. She has also mines of iron, zinc, lead and coal, none of which has been worked to its full capacity. There are facilities for manufacturing also, which, if advantageously used, would multiply the industrial interests many fold and bring wealth to the nation.

The question is whether there exists an element among the people possessing the energy and vitality to grasp the situation and turn it to advantage. For two centuries, Spain has been on the declining scale. Other nations have progressed, but she has gone backward steadily. The Spanish have dreamed while other people have worked. The task of taking the nation out of the rut in which it has run for 200 years is a colossal one. If poverty was the only obstacle, the future would offer hope. But it is the national character, weakened and warped by generations of misgovernment, by lack of education and want of contact with the outside world that makes the task look all but hopeless. Austria recovered quickly from the humiliation of defeat in 1866, and France rose by a bound from the degradation thrust on it in 1870. But in both these nations there was a basis of character upon which to build and which Spain may lack.

And yet there is a possibility that the future of Spain may surprise her de-The current of new ideas which will sweep over the nation as a result of a sudden contact with outer life may generate an activity that will astonish the world. Nations move quickly now, as men do, and the war of 1898 may prove to be the greatest blessing that has happened to Spain in two centuries. If she can forget the past, turn toward the rising sun, drop medieval and adopt modern ideas there is a bright future before her. There should be some seed of Moorish planting which has still the power of germination, and from which may yet spring a new life. If this should result, none would rejoice more than the nation that felt called by humanity to stop Spain in its downward course.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

Academy Season Begins.

"The Girl I Left Behind Me," was the attraction selected for opening the season at the Academy of Music this year. Decision Reached at a Meeting on It was presented last night before a good sized audience. During the summer season the Academy has been renovated and brightened. New carpets and mattings have been laid, and last night the interior Miners from Going Near the Place.

of the house presented a very cheerful and inviting appearance. The Lawrence orchestra, which has been engaged for the house for the season, won the ap-plause of the audience by the selections rendered between the acts.

"The Girl I Left Behind Mo" is one of the best war dramas that has been pro-duced of recent years. It has frequently been here and always received with much favor. Last night was no exception. In fact it is doubtful if it ever was received here with greater manifestations of ap proval than it was last night for it is a drama that strikes a popular chord a this time when public attention is much attracted to the military. A strong evenly balanced company presented the drama last night. Among the prominent members of it are Yales Winter, Joseph E Zahner, Neil Twonmey, George B. Miller, Henry F. Getchell, William H. Lenden, Georgia L. Fox, Ola Humphrey Augusta True and Lillian Avann. The drama will be repeated by the compan at the Academy this and tomorrow after rcons and evenings.

Gaiety Opens Its Doors.

Those who visited the Galety theater of inden street yesterday hardly recognize the interior as that of the old Davis the ater so many changes have been made in it. The characters of Septimus Cobb, the American colone from Kentucky and Baroness Von Rhind berg, a young French widow, are comed creations that delight by their drollery repartee and sparkling wit.

Devil's Auction.

At the Lyceum Wednesday night the new "Devil's Auction" will be presented This ever-blooming show-piece starts in this season on its seventeenth year be fore the public. The paying public havcome to look upon its yearly appearance as a matter of necessity, appreciating the fact that its management look upon its title in a mercantile sense—to this point that its announcement means that a staple article has arrived—that while its "outside wrapper," or title, may be old and familiar, its inside filling is of the best, new, attractive and timely; an the public, having perfect faith from pass experience in the aforesaid article, buy it again; or, in other words, pack the house-hence its phenomenal record of seventeen years of unbroken success.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Aug 29.—Prices of stocks broke sharply today and showed depression throughout. The first rally showed considerable vigor but later in the day the recuperative power of the market beame feebler and the close was barely teady at slightly agove the lowest. Net osses ranged from 1 to over 2 per cent. In almost all leading stocks. There was a growing disposition to realize both by professonal traders and by outside. In ome of the leading stocks the opening was about the lowest of the day. Others held quite firmly for the greater part of the day's session, but eventually yielded to the persistent demonstration of the cars in other stocks. There was a steady absorption of stocks at the decline, which was especially marked in Eurlington and St. Paul.
